

Working with Communities Short Course

An intensive and action focussed 2 x half day course on 13th September and 1st November

Really enjoyed having a critical friend asking open questions about my action plan

Brilliant facilitator – well planned, good structure, mindful of people's needs, excellent delivery

*The collaboration was great – gave so much more depth to my
action plan*

This course is for you if you need your service or staff to work better with volunteers, citizens or communities,

You will learn how to

- Identify and harness the benefits of working with citizens and communities for you
- Build on local networks and enhance effective collaborative working
- Develop an approach, test out ideas and review your own work with citizens and communities
- Create sustainable work with citizens and communities
- Network with cross-sector colleagues to generate new ideas and share experiences

Day One is an exploration of ways to work with communities with advice on how to create your own action plan.

Day Two is held two months later after you have tested out your plan. It is an opportunity to reflect on your experiences and learn from others in the group.

All public sector staff, community and voluntary sector and small groups welcome

Fees

Council staff – Funded by the Council Human Resources and Organisational Development Team

Others – a sliding scale depending on organisation, please check on Learning Gateway
